THE LONGEST JOURNEY BEGINS
WITH THE FIRST STEP

POLLED SHORTHORN SALE
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1969
CHANDLERVILLE, ILLINOIS

QUESTING HILLS CHANDLERVILLE, ILLINOIS

The longest journey begins with the first step. And when the first step has been taken it is followed by another, and yet another, and another. Only in this manner is one's ultimate goal attained.

We have taken several steps since our first production sale a year ago. We are engaged in a complete production testing, sonoscopy, herd classification, and carcass evaluation program. Each step is a tool to better serve you, and our industry.

We have conducted a search throughout the United States, Canada, New Zealand, and Australia to locate the one bull with the greatest potential for the Shorthorn breed. We found him in the Montana high country. Many of the sale females will carry his service. He will be displayed for your inspection and judgment on sale day.

Once again, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the "Questing" for our annual production sale. The cattle have quality as well as quantity - they are better, not just bigger. We do hope that you are as pleased with our progress, and our offering, as we are.

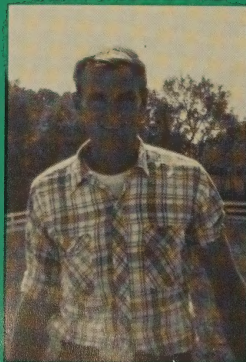

Sincerely yours
Edward Justice Long

October 12, 1968
For the past several years I have been working with Questing Hills Farm in association with Dr. Robert Goodin, Virginia, Ill. We have instituted a Reproductive Herd Health Program which involves knowing the reproductive status of each cow and bull at all times throughout the year. This program requires a considerable effort by Questing Hills Farm personnel; however, the dividends are well worth the effort. Each cow in the herd is examined one or more times during the year to make sure that she is safe in calf. Also each herd bull used naturally is examined prior to service. All breeding age bulls are examined and fertility tested prior to sale.

By maintaining a strict REPRODUCTIVE HERD HEALTH PROGRAM and a certified herd status, Questing Hills Farm has been able to maintain an extremely high calving percentage and remain free of any contagious reproductive diseases.

The Reproductive Herd Health Program is one more step taken by Questing Hills Farm to make their cow and calf program more profitable for them as well as to the buyers of Questing Hills seed stock.
